A. B. C. MEDIATORS ARE ABOUT TO ADJOURN IN DISGUST

Washington, June 30.—Claiming their good offices were solicited by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to mediate the difficulties between the United States and Huerta rather than internal squabbles of Mexican factions, the A. B. C. Mediators are about to adjourn at Niagara Falls in ill concealed disgust. This condition of affairs caused quite a stir in official circles today.

News of Villa's return with his army to Torreon is accepted as confirming the split between himself and Carranza, which is likely to cause a definite break and return warship in northern Mexico.

British Minister Carden at Mexico City has warned all British subjects to leave Mexico at once.

FIGHTS FIRE WITH GARDEN HOSE

Armed with a garden hose, J. K. Whitten braved the flames and worked courageously to quell a fire that destroyed the turpentine still, belonging to Merkle and Whitten Lumber Company, in the eastern part of the city. The fire department answered the alarm promptly at 11:30 o'clock, and worked faithfully to save the still, but the flames had gained too much headway.

WOMEN ASK PRESIDENT TO ENDORSE SUFFRAGE

Washington, June 30.—A procession of women, little long all dressed in white, marched from the public library to the White House to ask President Wilson to endorse suffrage amendment to the constitution. The President received them cordially but did not grant the request.

Many wives of Senators and congressmen were in the demonstration which was under the auspices of the district organization.

MEETINGS AT FIRST BAPTIST

In special revival services being held in the First Baptist church there being well attended and quite an interest is being shown. In the day of the arrival of Dr. Montgomery the preaching is being done by the pastor and Rev. J. M. Rogers. Already there have been several accessions to the church some of whom joined by letter and some upon profession of faith.

Dr. Montgomery and son will arrive by tomorrow. Everybody is earnestly invited to these meetings.

ELECTRIC EGG TESTER.

The Usury Grocery Company have installed an electric egg testing machine that easily shows up an egg that may be wrong in any way. This is a new thing and doubtless will be greatly appreciated by the public.

TO CELESTE JULY FOURTH.

In order that their employees may have a day off, three of the leading dry goods establishments in the city have agreed to close their doors July 4. Those who have announced that their stores will not be open are Saxon & Heart Dry Goods Company, Foy-Williams Company, and Henderson-Adams & Martin.

PICTURE AT HODGENSVILLE.

Plans have been made for a picnic to be given at Hodgenville by the Modern Woodmen and Woodmen of the World July 4, at which time a number of speeches and other entertaining features will be a part of the program. All members of similar orders in Dothan and the sections are invited to the picnic, which promises to be a gala occasion.

SIDELIGHTS ON MEXICO

(The following humorous account of the Mexican demand that the United States outposts surrender and the subsequent surrender is from the pen of a London Express correspondent.)

We had a red hot fight today and our war correspondents covered themselves with glory. I wish I could say that the troops were equally successful, but as a matter of fact they had fewer opportunities. It was like this. At the pumping station, upon which this city chiefly depends for its water supply and which is some nine miles on the other side of nowhere, is an American outpost of 250 marines.

To them appeared suddenly, out of the blue, two Mexican cavalrymen under a white flag. They explained that they represented a mixed force of 500 Federals, and that unless the outposts surrendered within ten minutes, things would happen.

The commander of the marines replied that in that case they had better return before the ten minutes were up—which they did. Thereafter the marines waited for three-quarters of an hour and nothing happened. They heard, however, five shots from somewhere, which presumably represented the Mexican army. One of the marines thought he saw something, so he fired too, and did not hit it. And that was the end of the engagement.

There is not much in this story to write about but the effects upon our war correspondents was extraordinary. Our numbers including the latest arrivals must be somewhere about seven hundred and not one of them but was in himself a perfect 47 of activity. Never was seen such a buckling on of swords and spurs and breastplates and cowboy hats and accoutrements generally satisfied with his bargain.

And there arose at once the question of horses. The pumping station, as I have said, is nine miles on the other side of nowhere. Some of us as was only natural took care to be charged later to expense account. Others as being more properly military decided to buy or hire horses. One gentleman, my very good friend, was luckier than the commonalty. He met a Mexican gentleman of shabby appearance in the street riding upon a four-legged animal about the size of a Great Dane. He approached him at once and, after a spirited contest, purchased the animal for $35 Mexican, at which the present rate of exchange is about 2 pounds 15s., a price which included saddle, bridle and other incidentals. Then he proceeded to mount.

I have heard, though I will not vouch for it—for you can never be sure any word that you hear in Mexico—that he was seen some four hours later staggering through the northern suburbs, carrying the exhausted charger over his shoulders.

I personally took a cab and told the man to drive to the battlefield. After he had driven about two hours we met the Mexican army. It was resting under a tree, and it was smoking a cigarette, and its rifle was about twenty yards away from it resting against another tree, and it was very comfortable and quite happy. I could have captured it and thereby ended the "peaceful occupation" of Mexico, but I am a non-combatant, and the subject of a neutral power, and so I only asked it where the fighting was. It yawned and waved its arms sleepily and said "Quién sabe?" which is Mexican for "How the devil should I know?" And then it asked me if I had any news to give it or any cigars, or any money, because it was a very poor man. I gave it a cigar of exceeding rankness, and it lighted it and became very much more amiable, and explained to me in no many words that it has not the vaguest idea what all the trouble was about, and had I

Just then the cabman who was consummately bored by the whole proceeding and had just missed killing a fly on the near end of the off horse with his whip, explained to me that he would want twenty pesos although he had originally agreed to take me for ten. I hate to argue so I gave the Mexican army fifty cents Mex. and asked him to argue the matter for me which he did to everybody's complete satisfaction. Then he did his very best to explain to me where the man he had relieved had told him that a preceding pion had told him that his sister had a young man friend who had every reason to believe that the fighting was taking place. So I drove on for another hour or so, and ended in a marsh and the cabman said that the off horse was the son of an animal that should be nameless, so I decided to let the fighting look after itself, and told him to drive back to the military headquarters, at the corner of the Alameda.

As to the owner of Mareno, he traded that worthy beast immediately on his return for sixteen lbs. the bags of Bull Durham tobacco such as they provide in the United States battleships—and is thoroughly satisfied with his bargain.

There is not much in this story to write about but the effects upon our war correspondents was extraordinary. Our numbers including the latest arrivals must be somewhere about seven hundred and not one of them but was in himself a perfect 47 of activity. Never was seen such a buckling on of swords and spurs and breastplates and cowboy hats and accoutrements generally satisfied with his bargain.

The court on these grounds ordered that the verdict and sentence against Walters be set aside and that he be discharged from further prosecution under the statute.

DRIVE SLEETS FOR WILMINGTON AND TUMULTY

Washington, June 30.—Holding invalid the law under which William C. Walters was recently convicted at Opelousas, La., of kidnapping young Robert Dunbar of that place, in April, 1912, the Louisiana Supreme Court today ordered Walters released. He had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

In 1910 in attempting to amend the existing law relating to the kidnapping making the crime one of capital punishment the Legislature, the court held, rendered the amendment unconstitutional by the phraseology of the new law.

The court on these grounds ordered that the verdict and sentence against Walters be set aside and that he be discharged from further prosecution under the statute.

DRIVE SLEETS FOR WILMINGTON AND TUMULTY

Washington, June 30.—Representative Byrnes of South Carolina went to the White House yesterday with two white duck suits which he presented to President Wilson and Secretary Tumulty. The duck was made at an old cotton mill in South Carolina and was fashioned into suits by the President's New York tailor.

Carl E. Hammond of Columbia, and Ernest H. Hill of Dothan, two well known Houston county citizens were in Montgomery yesterday on business—Montgomery Advertiser.

HUERTA DELEGATES REPORT U. S. PEACE PLUMBERS

Mexico City, June 30.—El Imperial, a government newspaper, announces Huerta delegates have rejected the United States peace proposal.

REVOLVER IN CHANCE.

After gambling the greater portion of last night, E. J. Brown, colored, chased Irish Gardner, colored, the former negro having a revolver, according to the police. Brown was fined $100 in a pistol case in Mayor's court today, and both defendants fled $20 each on charges of gaming.

WORK UNDER WAY.

Work was started today on the erection of two buildings for John Sanders on East Main street, J. W. Baughman having the contract for the job. The buildings will represent an expenditure of probably $2,000 or $4,000.

DOUGIE'S DOUGH, OTHER BISCUITS WORTHEM. The most popular number of jambalaya ever served by the restaurant of Dougie's Dough, 1000 Main street, was $1.50.

Remember the name—Dougie's—and take no other.

WIFE OF SELMA BUSINESS MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Birmingham, June 30.—Mrs. J. H. Robinson, the pretty 22 year old wife of a Selma business man, will recover from the effects of eight tablets of bichloride mercury which she swallowed last night shortly after being jailed following a row with an unknown man in the lobby of the Windsor hotel. Prompt work by physicians saved the woman's life. Detectives are trying to find the person who smuggled the poison to the woman in a bag of fruit.

VERDICT AGAINST WALTERS SET ASIDE

Montgomery, Ala., June 30.—Returns today indicate Henry B. Steagall has received a majority of all votes cast in the Third District for the long term in Congress and W. O. Mulkey has defeated J. J. Speight by a big majority for the short term. Fraser ran second and Evans third in the long term race.

INDICATIONS ARE THAT THE RACE BETWEEN W. O. MULKEY AND J. J. SPEIGHT IS VERY CLOSE.

INDIGO SENTENCED TO HANG AFTER 30 MINUTES TRIAL

Winsted, La., June 30.—With Johnson, a negro, found guilty of murdering Samuel Chandler and wife, of Calcasieu, La., was sentenced to hang and on the way to Alcatraz, died ninety minutes after being placed on trial. The negro was escorted by the militia to prevent mob violence.

MAN KILLED MISSING AS RESULT OF BALTIMORE FIRE

Baltimore, Md., June 30.—Two hundred and twenty-five persons are still missing as a result of the great fire. Search for bodies has begun in the ruins, but it is believed some are entirely consumed.

PUR PURCHASED BY BIRDS

Washington, June 30.—Amendments to the Department of Agriculture's regulations for protection of migratory birds, published today will become effective Oct. 1. The new regulations provide for a closed season in zone No. 2 for all water fowl from Jan. 16 to Oct. 1 next following. Exceptions to the rule prescribe the open seasons as follows.

Just who won out in the race for the short term seems a bit uncertain and indications are that this race was extremely close. Friends of Mr. Mulkey in Dothan claim that he has been a victor over J. J. Speight, but it is understood that the Eufaula man was claiming a victory late last night.

According to unofficial returns Dothan gave W. O. Mulkey, 454, J. J. Speight, 128; A. A. Evans, 62, T. B. Fraser, 218; Henry B. Steagall, 272.

New York, June 30.—The old

Cub machine, once the mightiest in baseball, has been broken. never again to be mended. Of the grand old gang that thrilled the thousands with their wonderful team work in the old days, while working under the Cub standard, only one still wears the Cub uniform, and he—Frank Schultz—slipping fast, and seems due to be shunted off to the scrap heap at the year is out.

Chance, Tinker, and Evers, the wonderful double play combination is scattered in three different leagues. Chance managing New York Yankees and Tinker holding a like job for the Chicago Reds, while Evers is caving around the keystone back for Boston Nationals.

Minor Brown is scouting for Reds, Jack Pfeister is solo in the lower class minors. Overall is on the Coast in semiretirement, and Johnny Kling has quit the game for all time. Jimmy Shook and Artie Nichols are in Association. Artie and Jimmie Münfeldt have gone forever.

see how it is, don't be if Eddie Collins, Ty Speaker, Honus Wagner, Walter Johnson and 75 of the American and National leagues jump to the Feds the fall. Why? Well, be in Johnson, Garry Herrmann, Thompson, John McGraw and organized fellows say so.

The company paymaster was the second Lieutenant. He squatted on the steps in front of his men and thumbed a tiny pile of new one peso Constitutional notes. He called the rule from penitentiary list and shades of West Point—he maintained sprawling position while he did it.

While their names were being read the demon warriors stood in a line that was about as straight as a pumpkin vine. Some scratched furiously at their tattered trouser legs. Others stolidly smoked their cigarettes and flat-footedly clumped forward when their names were called. They examined the money carefully on both sides, rubbed their hands over its surface, rolled it in a tiny ball and tightly clenched their fists over it.

Most of the eight clubs in and around this section are closed for the rest of the summer which means that all the punching persons who didn't lay aside a portion of their winter winnings will have to go to work digging to keep themselves in food and tobacco until harvest time comes again.

Honus Wagner, now over 40 years of age, is batting at a higher clip than when he was twenty. Which leads to the question: Now much will he be hitting at 60?

she's imagination can easily be here that he enjoyed the merriment of youth, and enjoyed much of it at the expense of the public.

Like many prodigiously industrious persons, Mr. Hanshaw had a poor head for business. He wrote 200 stories, made several fortunes and died of overwork, while under contract to write four novels a year and 24 short stories, with the proceeds of which he hoped to recoup his losses in unfortunate investments.

Such a person was Bertha M. Clay. Yet there are millions of readers who cherish the fond delusion that they know their favorite authors through their writing and share with them the views of life that prompt the production of their books.—Courier-Journal.

BERTHA M. CLAY, ESQ.—

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in self-defense, perhaps, declared in "Poems of Passion" that no more can be learned of a writer's personality by reading her literary output than can be learned of the sea by looking at the shells cast upon the shore. That was at least true of the late Truman W. Hanshaw, whose favorite pen name was Bertha M. Clay, although he was also the author of novels popular a generation ago under the name of Charlotte M. Dreane, and wrote voluminously under other nom de plume.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms," "Wedded and Parted," "In Love's Crucible," and other Bertha M. Clay novels were devoured by sentimental girls when they were new, and doubtless they are still widely sold. They were regarded as examples of the work of the woman novelist at its shallowest, its tenderest, its
